NURSE READY TO LAUNCH HEALTH SURVEY IN ADA

Graduate Examiner Plans
To Begin Wednesday
At Hays School.

PARENTS MAY WATCH

Patrons of All Wards Are Invited To Observe
Examinations.

After the arrival here last night of Mrs. Lucy Henderson, graduate nurse, who is to have charge of the school health survey in this county, work was started today on what promises to be one of the most important side issues in the history of Ada schools. Mrs. Henderson stated today that she would start her first examination work Wednesday morning at the Hays ward school, but has not made out a program after that date.

Her work will include a personal examination of each child, making out reports and recommendations. She will go from one ward school to another until each child attending school in the city has been given personal attention. By so doing, she, with her assistants, will be able to make a report as to the general conditions of the city schools as to health and also call the attention of parents to their children's condition and give them a chance to remedy all ailments.

One part of her work will be measurement and weights, by which method she will determine the child's nourishment. An examination of the mouth, nose, eyes, lungs and throat will also be made. Parents whose children do not pass a perfect test and who want further information as to what steps they should take to remedy defects will be received by Mrs. Henderson in person. Appointments with her can be obtained through the office of the city superintendent of schools.

Two copies of her report on each child will be made, one being sent to the parents and one filed at the office of the city superintendent. After she has completed her work in the schools she will prepare a general summary and give the health percentage of each school. This will afford an opportunity for comparison of health conditions in the seven ward buildings of Ada.

A meeting of the Ada school board and principals of the ward and high schools has been called for 7 o'clock tonight at Supt. J. T. Hickman's office at which time Mrs. Henderson will lay before them her plans, explain all questions and give the principals necessary instructions for placing their students in readiness for her visit. She expects to be here about one month. About 150 children can be examined in a day, she estimates.

Not only will Ada children be given an examination but those at Francis and Stonehill are also to be given a share of her attention. She will proceed with her work there as she is planning to do in Ada. This will give schools of these three places an opportunity really to know where they stand from a health standpoint, and also will show them correct steps to be taken in improving such conditions as may not be favorable.

Mrs. Henderson is a graduate nurse and has had several years' experience in her work. She recently conducted a like examination in the Duncan schools, has been connected with the staff of school health officials in large cities, and a person better fitted for the work could not be secured. Mr. Hickman stated today after being in consultation with her.

All supplies and equipment needed for the work is here and was being placed in readiness for use today. Patrons who are interested enough to visit the schools will be shown the method in which the health survey is conducted. It is believed that after the results of this health survey have been made known, a like survey will be made each year and arrangements made to establish a fund to provide for such work.

DROP IN SCHOOL ENROLLMENT IS SEEN IN CENSUS

A slight decrease in the total of school children actually attending in Pontotoc county, this year under last, is shown in a comparison of statistics made public this morning by County Superintendent A. Floyd following the receipt of figures from the last school to report upon the new census.

This year's total shows 11,910 children. There were 12,137 last year. Enrollment in Ada schools has gained since last year but this has been counteracted by a slump in attendance in many of the rural districts, it is explained.

Total white male school children enrolled this year is 5894 as against 5758 last year. White female children number 5685 this year as compared with 5783 a year ago. Total white enrollment in the county is 11,583 now; this time last year it was 11,531. Latest census reports give 162 colored males and 165 colored females in school which is somewhat less than for last year when there were 182 colored males and 167 colored females registered. This year's report does not mention the number of Indian children, of whom there were 247 last year.

COURT TO SETTLE COAL FUSS ASKED

Kenyon Would Submit All
Disputes To Board and Let Public Enforce.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Establishment of a federal tribunal and code of laws for regulation of the coal industry was proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Kenyon, republican Iowa, chairman of the senate labor committee which investigated the recent West Virginia coal field disorder.

The bill follows the line of Mr. Kenyon's recent report of the West Virginia situation and probably will be the last before he retires to go on the federal bench. It would create "a national coal mining board" and provide statutory rights for both labor and capital in the coal industry. Decrees of the board would be enforced by public opinion and their violation not made punishable.

The board would be composed of nine members, three of each representing the employees, employers and the public. All would be appointed by the president, subject to senate confirmation. The labor group would be selected from six names presented by the United Mine Workers of America.

Employer nominations would be made by the national coal association and the anthracite operators association.

Under the bill, employers and employees would be required to make every possible effort to settle disputes between themselves, but in event of failure would be required to submit the controversy to the board.

Decision of the board would require assent of a majority. The board members would receive an annual salary of $10,000.

PRELIMINARY WAIVED ON CHARGE OF FORGERY

R. E. Thompson, farmer, waived preliminary Monday before Justice of the Peace W. H. Fisher and made bond for $1000 for his appearance in district court at the next regular session on criminal complaints to answer to a charge of second degree forgery.

Thompson is charged with signing the name of another Thompson to secure a registered letter containing a check for $26 from the local postoffice about two weeks ago.

Baptists To Open Personal Revival Campaign Sunday

Beginning next Monday morning an eight-day revival will be held at the First Baptist church in which only local persons will lead. Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor, will do the preaching and music will be under the direction of Prof. A. L. Pentem. Baptist churches all over the state are observing the week Feb. 19-26 and the slogan will be "Everyone win one." Members of the church will engage in a campaign of personal evangelism.

"I am expecting all the members to co-operate in a noble fashion during the week," the pastor said today.

Short Reaches Okmulgee to Reorganize Bank of Commerce, Center of Trouble

Judge Christopher Reported Ill Following His Sudden Resignation, Announced Yesterday As Result of Request Made by Meeting.

OKMULGEE, Feb. 14.—Attorney General George Short with his assistant, Judge William H. Zwick, arrived here today with a plan which he said is a practical and feasible method of re-organizing the defunct Bank of Commerce here, the failure of which was made the subject of a superior court grand jury investigation which was terminated abruptly, before it was completed, when Superior Judge H. R. Christopher dismissed the grand jury Thursday morning, because he said, it had not been selected according to law.

The plan which the attorney general said had been approved by the state bank commissioner and the banking board, was to be presented to representative bankers and business men of Okmulgee, together with stockholders and depositors of the defunct bank at a meeting this morning.

Later in the day Mr. Short was to confer with County Attorney Hepburn in the bank matter.

"I wish it made plain," he said "that my work in the re-organization of the bank in no way supercedes the investigation by a grand jury of criminal activity in this county. My action should not be considered as interfering in any way with a probable inquiry into the bank's affairs."

HARDING OPPOSED TO SPECIAL TAX FOR BONUS BILL

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—President Harding is unalterably opposed to the enactment of the special tax suggested to finance the soldier bonus or to the return to taxes which have been repealed, it was announced officially today at the White House.

It also was indicated that the executive was very much in doubt if it would be possible to raise the necessary sum to finance the cash feature of the bonus under the issuance of bonds without injuring the interest rates and upsetting the financial tranquility which is sought.

It was stated that Mr. Harding's attitude on the bonus question would be made clear to congress in a communication expected to be sent to the senate and house subcommittees dealing with the bonus subject. Whether this letter would be forwarded today was not disclosed.

The president, it was said, was disposed to favor financing the bonus but his attitude had to be that of finding a sane and sensible condition for the fulfillment of promises made on one hand without disturbing the desired return to financial stability.

At the capital, it appeared that sentiment was steadily growing in favor of short time treasury notes to cover the estimated cash payment of about $300,000,000, which under the terms of the bill, as now considered by the house ways and means committee, would be made over the 30 months period beginning January 1, 1923.

Charcoal powder is effective for cleaning knife blades which have become stained.

Judge Christopher yesterday announced in a telegram to a member of a committee of the local bar association that his resignation requested by resolutions drafted at a citizen mass meeting following his dismissal of the grand jury, was being forwarded but had not arrived here this morning from Coyle, where he has been with his family.

His daughter here said she had talked over long distance telephone to the people with whom her father was staying at Coyle and that they had informed her that all three were ill.

Opinion was expressed in legal circles this morning that Judge Christopher would not return for several days, although technically his resignation cannot become effective until it is approved by the governor. Preparation was being made to forward the resignation to Oklahoma City as soon as it is received here.

Another angle of the state's action in the case was injected into the situation here this morning when State Examiner and Inquirer Fred Parkinson, with two assistants, began their examination of the defunct bank's books and records.

Their investigation had been held up until today to await the arrival of Bank Commissioner C. G. Seaton from Oklahoma City. While this work was progressing in one corner of the bank, the meeting to discuss re-organization of the bank was in progress in an adjoining room.

Meanwhile, the superior court grand both here and at Henryetta was at a standstill because of Judge Christopher's notice of resignation.

TAYLOR MYSTERY HINGING NOW ON MISSING BUTLER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—No official connected with the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery was brave enough to declare today that any actual progress had been made towards its solution.

The officers were at work and still expressing determination to do their best to find the slayer of the film star, but found themselves confronted with "too many wild tips" and too few genuine clues.

Many of the "tips" lived through one edition of a newspaper—and then disappeared.

The detectives of the police department still declared their belief that the case never would be cleared up until Edward F. Sands, the missing butler-secretary to Taylor, had been discovered.

And the sheriff's deputies were still firm in their contention that Sands had nothing to do with the case.

The air was filled with rumors of "mystery men" and "mystery women" and "mystery witnesses," "drug peddlers," "jealousy motives," and "revenge theories," but back of them all were the facts that Sands had not been found, that the murderer had not been arrested, and that the case was unsolved.

"DODD FIRED TO SAVE HIMSELF"

Father of Local Man Tells
Other Side of Killing in:
McIntosh County.

J. B. Dodd, who lives at the corner of East Fourteenth and Francis avenue and is the father of Walter Dodd, has returned from Eufaula, where he attended the preliminary of his son, who is charged with the killing of John Sellers a few days ago. Mr. Dodd says the evidence brought out by the state witnesses in the preliminary shows that Walter shot in self defense and that the sentiment in Eufaula is favorable to him.

According to the way Mr. Dodd got the story, Walter and young Sellers had some difficulty during the day. In the afternoon Walter and his brother were in the hotel paying their bill preparatory to leaving. Young Sellers rushed into the hotel, took off his coat and informed Walter that he was going to whip him, at the same time making a pass. Walter left the hotel, but returned later by way of a back stairway and went to his room on the third floor.

He Warned Them.
Young Sellers and his father went to the second floor where they met Walter. Walter was heard to say that if the men did not go back he would kill them. A scuffle ensued, and from the information available it is presumed that Walter shot while he was down and the victim on top of him. When Walter's brother reached the scene, the elder Sellers had the gun in his hand, and this was taken from him.

The deceased was a large man, Mr. Dodd says, while Walter is quite small.

An application for bail has been made in the case and a hearing on this application is expected within a few days.

ONLY 4-YEAR-OLD GIRL LIVES TO TELL OF MURDER

(By the Associated Press)
WACO, Tex., Feb. 14.—The death of Homer Turk, 13 year old boy who was struck down by the assassins of W. H. Barker and his wife in their store at Concord, near here, Saturday night, eliminates the possibility of obtaining any direct evidence as to the identity of the murderers except through the four year old Barker girl, the only living member of the family. The boy died about 2 o'clock this morning in a sanitarium.

No clue has been discovered.

Pawhuska Cashier Taken By Bandits In Raid Upon Bank

(By the Associated Press)
PAWHUSKA, Feb. 14.—O. T. Ebertson, assistant cashier of the American National Bank of Pawhuska, which was robbed by two masked men yesterday of about $100 in currency, was back at work today none the worse for his experiences of yesterday, when he was kidnapped by the bandits when they escaped. He was released about 7 miles northeast of Pawhuska and returned to town late yesterday.

No trace has been found of the bandits who when they released Ebertson were driving northeast towards Bartlesville, in a motor car said to have been stolen at Arkansas City, Kan., last week.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A bill extending the life of the 3 percent restricted immigration law until June 30, 1923, was ordered reported today by the house immigration committees.

DISCLOSURE OF MAMMOTH PLOT STIRS IRELAND

NEAR-WAR CRISIS NOW

Border Between North and
South Ireland Seething
Today, Reported.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 14.—Michael Collins' dramatic disclosure of an alleged republican plot to overthrow the provisional government, the sudden and unexpected suspension of the British military evacuation, and the dangerous tension between the north and southern Irish counties, have come to produce a serious situation in Ireland.

Dispatches show that the position on the frontier is not far removed from a state of war. Indeed the prospect of a civil war is being discussed in Belfast and elsewhere in the north.

Dispatches sent by Belfast correspondents of London newspapers represent the temper of the Ulstermen as being such that unless imprisoned unionists are speedily released there will follow an explosion which may lead to war.

Concerning the supposed plot against the provisional government nothing is known here about what Mr. Collins revealed in his cable correspondence with Thomas Lyons, secretary of the American association for recognition of the Irish republic, and the Dublin correspondents refrain from even speculating on it.

Troops for Protection.
Of the suspension of troop movements, also, little is known here but it is generally believed this development is due to the dangerous state of affairs on the northern border of the free state.

All available northern police are being moved to the frontier from the quiet areas, according to the Daily Mail's Belfast correspondent, and the boundary will soon be lined with 10,000 armed and disciplined men. The danger is not confined to the frontier, he continues, owing to the angry antagonism of the Sinn Feiners and Orange men in various parts of Ulster, the results of which were evidenced in the shooting and bombing in Belfast yesterday.

Snipers Continue Firing.

BELFAST, Feb. 14.—Snipers continued their grim work in the disturbed area of Belfast today and by midday the death toll since Saturday had been increased to 18 by the death of two men who were victims of flying bullets in the street. The number had reached the total of approximately 50.

In the main thoroughfare of the city business proceeded apparently as usual, but in the storm centers the sniping was frequent and dangerous.

Troops on Streets.

BELFAST, Feb. 14.—A large body of troops appeared on the streets of Belfast late this afternoon. They were the first to be sent here since the renewed outbreak of disorders began.

FORD SUBMITTED HIS BEST OFFER, SAYS ENGINEER

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—W. B. Mayo, chief engineer and present spokesman for Henry Ford, today notified the house military committee investigating the Ford offer for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals, Ala., government owned property, "that Mr. Ford had named the best offer he could." The statement was accepted by the committee as re-affirming Mr. Mayo's declaration of yesterday that Mr. Ford would not accept any material alteration in provision of his proposed plan and congress could accept or reject, without disappointment to Mr. Ford.

The investigation was continued today with Mr. Mayo a principal witness, faced a rapid fire interrogation by Representative Miller, republican, Washington, who said he intended to show where the government "gets off in this deal."

"One item of considerable size," Mr. Miller said, "will be the $1,600,000 interest charged in the two years required to complete Dam No. 2 and construct Dam No. 3. The $20,000,000 to be used for this work must be raised by bonds, probably at 4 percent interest. We can not load the tax payers by taking it from the treasury."

Mr. Mayo said the dams could be constructed in two years.

Toddle tops, now popular among small boys, were first made by the Egyptians on the banks of the Nile.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

BOAST NOT:—Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

LOOKING FORWARD.

Ralph Parlette has written an inspiring little booklet on "The Best is Yet to Come" or "Go On South." After describing the hard knocks of childhood and dispelling the old idea that the child sees the happiest time of his life, he shows how the Mississippi river grows by going south, regardless of the obstacles and the filth and the absence of thanks. Finally he reaches this conclusion:

"Going on South means each day 'forgetting the things that are behind' and pressing forward. It means widening our vision. It means beginning each day with an open mind and a childlike receptivity. It means becoming kinder, cleaner, truer, braver. It is the glorious sense of expansion.

"Let us rejoice in the radiant reality of today and the wonderful promise of tomorrow. Each day we move into a larger world, just as each foot upward we climb a mountain we sweep a larger view. Let us help liberate the prisoners of yesterday who mourn to 'live my life over again.' Let us congratulate them on having gone so well past cradles, castoria, mellin's food, mumps, measles and puppy-love! At last we are getting into the first reader of life.

"Let us lay aside this childish bugaboo, 'You are seeing the best days.' We are yet to see them. The kingdom of life is not bounded but unbounded by birthdays."

Why worry over the past? Other writers have given like advice. In one of Browning's most beautiful poems, he challenges us to "Come grow old along with me. The best is yet to be." Shakespeare tells us that things without remedy should be with regard, or in other words let the dead past bury its dead.

Whether in religion, in business, or in pleasure it is the present and future that count. The past is gone. The present will be gone in an instant. The future is the thing. The loss today should be forgotten in the pleasure of winning tomorrow. The sin of today should be forgotten in the joy of rendering service tomorrow. The wounding of a heart today should be forgotten in the making of another glad tomorrow.

LET'S HAVE THE FACTS.

There have been so many charges and so much noise made at Okmulgee in connection with the bank failures there, that a thorough investigation must be made. All the facts, regardless of the persons involved, must come out. We have our doubts about the guilt of some of the high officials spoken of, but if any official of the state of Oklahoma or the county of Okmulgee is guilty, we want to see him shoveling rocks on the grounds of the penitentiary at McAlester.

The most despicable of men is a man who will accept an office at the hands of the people and then illegally use that office for his own financial betterment.

We hope that not a leaf will be left turned in an effort to get at the bottom of the failure. It must be done. If the officials are guiltless, their good names should be cleared. If any one is guilty, he should be punished to the full extent of the law. Give us facts, all the facts, and nothing but facts.

After a visit to the east Rev. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, Texas, has his knife out for the church schools which seek donations from the Rockefeller General Board of Education. Norris states the terms on which he alleges these gifts are made and they cannot be said to be very favorable to the independence of the schools. The General Board evidently has a string tied to its gifts and can pull them back if any school does not conduct itself as seems proper by the Board. Norris insists that with the acceptance of a gift from the Board a school surrenders its independence, hence he is bitterly apposed to it.

"Many men of many minds," was a favorite line for the copy books in early days when the writer was just learning to hold a pen. It takes an editor to fully appreciate the depth of meaning in these few words. Any kind of story or editorial appearing in a newspaper is subject to about as many interpretations as there are readers. A good many see things the editor or reporter never dreamed of when he wrote the story.

In Texas the women as well as the men must pay poll tax in order to be legal voters. Under the law taxes on property will not be accepted unless the poll tax for both husband and wife is paid too. Under that system the number of poll tax payers this year is far in excess of any previous year. The women of Texas are getting their equal rights.

It is poor business to crow about skinning the other fellow in a trade. Keep your mouth shut and perhaps you can get him again. Everything is lovely as long as a man does not know he has been skinned.

A citizen of Altus, through the Altus Times-Democrat, requests the Ku Klux to try its hand in influencing the boys who are loafing to get back into school. No doubt a little persuasion from this source would have its desired effect.

The Fourth of the Press

Idle Rumor.
(Lawton Constitution)
Idle rumor and gossip are the worst epidemics that can beset a community. Whether they are whispering against the character of an individual or against an institution, it matters little. Rumor, gossip is the hardest thing in the world to combat. They grow in the tellings. They are exaggerated as they roll along from mouth to mouth. To publicly refute them only gives wider prominence to them.

So many people are willing, yes, almost eager, to pass along a rumor or a bit of gossip that they wouldn't put down in black and white and sign their name to for a mint of money. They are willing to encourage something that they wouldn't publicly back up.

The most disastrous effects of the tendency among people to give ear and lip to idle gossip has been noticeable in connection with closing of banks. It has had its effect elsewhere as in Lawton. Some of it was innocent and some of it was probably been malicious. But in effect there is little difference. The innocent gossip is as bad as the malicious.

Wild rumors, idle gossip have been going the rounds in Lawton concerning banks that have closed. With each telling they grow in size, until they are out of proportion with any possible fact. It should be stopped. Each person should appoint himself a committee or one to see that any rumor, any bit of gossip, not backed up by fact, should stop right with them. They should see that it goes no further. At least make some effort to ascertain whether it be true and is borne out by facts, before passing it along to your neighbor.

Too many curb stone philosophers, manufacturing gossip and adding to rumor, are of little benefit to community. Whether it be the reputation of a man or woman, or business institution, they deserve the benefit of a doubt or an investigation before credence is given the undercurrent of gossip.

Bone-Dry in 1950
(Daily Advertiser)
The world will be bone-dry in 1950, predicts "Pussyfoot" Johnson, of the Anti-Saloon League. He is back in his Ohio home after a nine-months tour of Europe and India.

India will be the next country to give up liquor, says Pussyfoot. India has 350,000,000 people. All except 62,000,000 of these are forbidden to drink, by their religions. The Hindu wets are becoming temperate, Pussyfoot found. More important, they are running out of rum.

Denmark, which prefers whisky to beer, is climbing on the wagon. 235 of its parishes have voted dry. "Pussyfoot" Johnson may be guessing wrong on the absolute date at which the world will be bone-dry. But it's coming. The prohibition movement, which got its real start in America, is sweeping the world. Man is freeing himself from the slavery of drugs and John Barleycorn, as he freed himself from human slavery.

Presidential Souvenirs.

If the popularity of a president is indicated by the number of tokens, presents and souvenirs he receives, Mr. Harding is making an extremely popular chief executive. The latest addition to his collection is a bushel of sweet potatoes grown in New Jersey, and which called for a personal reply from the president.

Such incidents as this should not be dismissed as being trivial, because they have a real significance. It is not at all difficult to imagine a government in which the chief executive, were efforts made to present him with a silver collar button by a jewelry association; a novelty hat, a group of admirers, or even a bushel of lovely sweet potatoes, would become enraged and order the would-be donors ejected from the premises.

The fact that America does not have an executive of that sort indicates that American democracy is almost pure. It is found even in the flavor of sweet potatoes, in New Jersey. It is sort of a homely democracy, patterned, it seems, after the custom of the Kentucky settlers to load the family in the buggy after church and drive over to the neighbors to eat Sunday dinner. It is an excellent sort of democracy after all, and one with which many foreign governments should become acquainted.

There never should come a time when Americans will not feel at liberty to send any sort of token to the president they desire to send. There should never come a time when presidents are not willing to receive them. When that time does come, the trend of American democracy may well be cause for worry.

ANOTHER ADA PRODUCT APPEARS ON MARKET

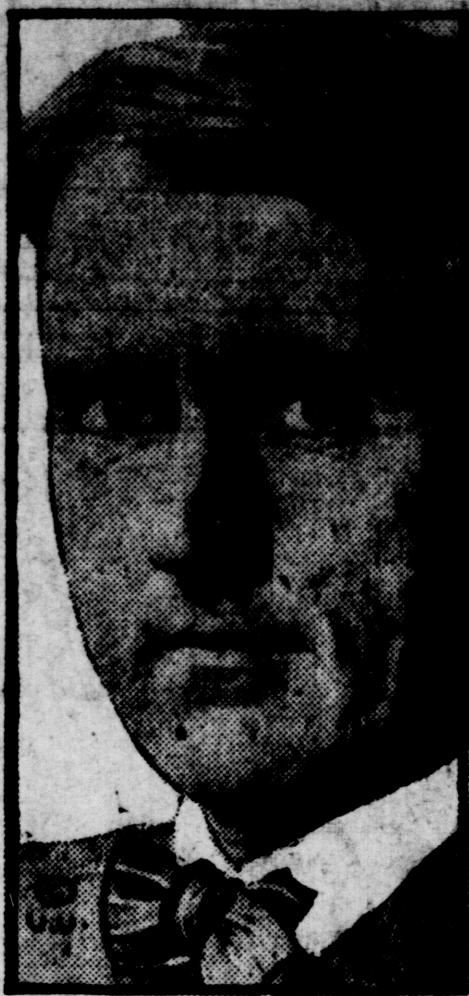

Another Ada product, Eskimo Pie, has appeared in Ada. It is a delicious combination of Santa Ice cream and milk chocolate put up by the Southern Ice and Utilities Co. The first of this product was placed on the market today, and it is expected it will find a ready demand.

If you have not tried this, it will pay you to get a tooth into it without delay, for it has the quality, according to the opinion of many who have sampled the newest product manufactured in Ada.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

They say advice is cheap but sometimes there is a flareback one is not looking for and costs somebody pretty dearly. It is never safe, for instance, to take a hand in a friend's matrimonial affairs. One time a friend of mine asked me what I thought of his getting married. I was a bachelor then and I advised him strongly against such a rash step. Of course he did not heed my advice and as he happened to be well-pleased with his bargain he and his wife dropped me from their list. Shortly after that another moonstruck friend asked my advice on the same subject. Seeking to profit from my experience with the other fellow I told him it was just the thing for him. He was stung and blamed me with it all, so I lost another friend.

Speaking of the importance of club work I read a letter a few days ago from a lady whom I knew as a college student twenty years ago. She and her husband are A. E. graduates and are now making a success on a farm. In mentioning the fact that her young sons were taking an active part in club work she regretted that she herself had not had a similar opportunity in her day saying that some of the time she put in on abstract subjects could have been employed more profitably in club work, if there had been any clubs such as we now have.

Marshall Nash, a 10-year-old boy living near Weatherford, Texas, wanted to buy a pure bred pig and join the pig club. His father gave him no encouragement, but the boy was not to be deterred by ordinary obstacles. A rat killing contest was being pulled off in the neighborhood at that time and a cent was paid for the tail of each rat brought. The boy killed 906 rats and bought his pig with the money received, and it later became a prize winner.

Speaking of rats, they are very expensive boarders and their depredations in a year's time cost the farmers many millions of dollars. Just as an example of how quickly their thieving mounts into money John Thrasher tells of leaving 25 ears of corn in a box a few nights ago intending to feed it next morning. However, when feeding time came nothing but cobs remained in the box, the rats having made way with the rest. These pests multiply so rapidly that only constant warfare can hold their number down to reasonable proportions.

Poultry Interest Grows.
That a state which only a little more than thirty years ago was depending solely upon prairie chickens as fowl for the table should in that time build farm flocks to number 11,912,554 seems sufficient proof of the statement that interest in poultry in Oklahoma is growing by leaps and bounds.
But farmers might have done that by the use of mongrel hens, if the hens laid well enough.
The most encouraging feature is that farmers no longer are willing to continue merely "raising chickens"—as a neglected sideline; they're going in now to make it a "poultry industry"—placing it on a business and scientific basis.
One indication of this is the fact that almost four thousand poultry shows were held last year, including state, county and school district exhibits.
Another is that, at the request of farmers, county agents and experts from the Extension Division of Oklahoma A. and M. College, during that year, held more than 2,000 culling demonstrations in the various counties.

But now comes, from the A. and M. College, still more convincing proof of this deeper interest in poultry. Second semester enrollment in the poultry department of the college shows an 88.4 percent increase over first semester enrollment. There were 164 students in poultry husbandry the first semester—and that was the largest enrollment up to that date—but there are 305 of them now, making the poultry department at A. and M. one of the largest in the school of agriculture.

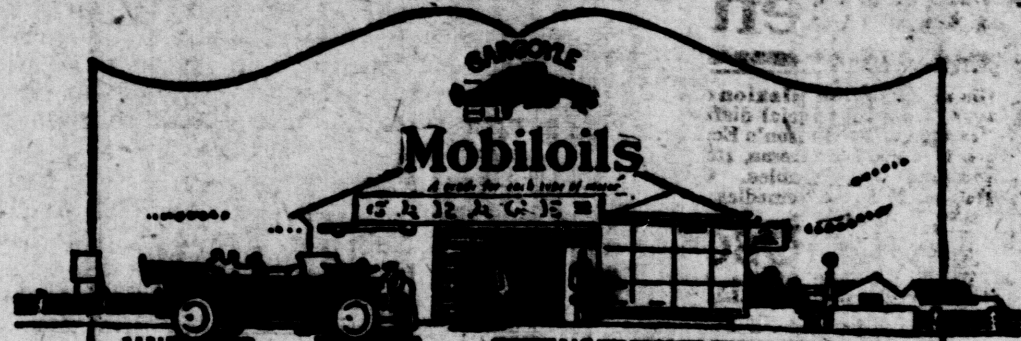

Many animals keep their mates throughout their lives.

Negroes Bound Over
On Larceny Charge
By Justice Brown

John Brown and Jerry Brown, negroes, were bound over to the district court at the conclusion of their examining trial this morning before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown on a charge of grand larceny under $500 bond each. Both made bail.

The two are charged with stealing a saddle from the Loman farm, near Stonewall, about two weeks ago. Another negro held in connection with the alleged theft was released.

Arthur High, arraigned today before Justice Brown on two charges, drunk and disturbing the peace, entered a plea of guilty to both counts and was fined $19.50 on the drunk plea and $14.50 on the disturbance plea. On default of cash he was remanded to the county jail.

OUR COSTLY NEGLIGENCE

"Co-ordination" is a tired, haggard, nervous wreck of a word that was nearly worked to death at Washington during the early days of the war. It was the first of the dollar-a-year words to come forward to do war work, and it was worn to a frazzle. I hate to drag the poor word thing out from the quiet retreat in my dictionary where it has been resting and recuperating, but I must say that this lack of co-ordination, lack of organization, duplication, inefficiency, waste, and haphazard hodge-podge structure of the national governmental machine is no secret to those at Washington, who run and manage it for us, and who are even more directly responsible than we are for the condition into which it has fallen.

I submit pleas of avoidance and confession from both Democrats and Republicans. It is not a matter of politics. It is a matter of proved and confessed negligence on the part of the men we have hired to run the machine, and have kept year after year in places of trust and power and responsibility. They haven't kept up the plant. The form of organization is grotesquely inadequate. The morale of the working force is badly impaired, as I have set forth at length in previous articles. We have paid the price for this, grossly and hugely, in money and in poor service. This has been costly negligence on our part. I said I had confessions. Here they are, Reed Smoot, Republican and a senator from Utah, speaking:

The administrative branches of the government have undergone no fundamental change since the organization was devised by Alexander Hamilton. No other government in the world could have gone on as ours has done, and paid the bills involved in our wasteful methods of administration. We have been able to do it because this country has had resources and wealth unparalleled. But the war has brought us at last to realize that these will not last always. We need a complete survey of the whole situation de novo by a committee of men willing to recognize that it is a task of day and night for a year, and very likely, two years.

There is endless duplication of work among different departments, and even in the same department. . . . It is the one through all the government functions, and now, when the burden of carrying our enormous debt is weighing on the people, we can no longer neglect to give it consideration.

When he said these things, Mr. Smoot was urging a concrete proposal to bring about the reformation so badly needed.

And now Franklin D. Roosevelt, for seven years assistant secretary of the navy and recently the Democratic candidate for vice president:

The entire system of relationship which exists between congress and the executive departments is fundamentally wrong. Let me illustrate: I made an offer one spring to the appropriations committee of both house and senate, telling them that I would tomorrow discharge 15 per cent of the employees of the Navy department if they, the committees, would give me complete authority to take one-half of the salaries of the employees so discharged and add it to the salaries of the other 85 per cent of the employees still left in the department. . . . Of course, however, under the present system congress would not think of giving executive discretion of this kind.

Congress, for various reasons, has so tied the hands of the executive officers of the government that they have no discretion in the fundamental questions of employment. . . . My own wonder is that, considering the existing circumstances, the employees of the government are as efficient as they actually are. . . . Congress, however, under the present system congress would not think of giving executive discretion of this kind.

After seven years down here in an executive position . . . I cannot help the conclusion that our governmental methods are cumbersome and wasteful. The first improvement must come in what is, after all, the source of governmental activities—that is, the legislative branch. . . . This must come from congress. We need also a reclassification and redistribution of the work of the executive departments. This can only come if congress, working in accord with itself and with the executives, will discuss the whole question simultaneously and not merely piecemeal.

Well, there you are! A Republican who has been in the legislative branch of the government for seventeen years, and a Democrat who has been in the executive branch for seven years, both telling the same story of how badly the national business is managed.

The odd thing about it is that our agents and representatives at Washington who let this waste and inefficiency run on, year after year, pay no penalty. We pay the piper to the tune of millions and billions—literally that much. And the condition will endure until we make a real roar about it. Congress increasingly shakes its head over the situation and brings in various proposals of reform, and says how wrong it all is; but lacking a lively, inflamed public pressure, nothing gets done.

The lives of several kinds of plants have been doubled by a Vienna botanist who has discovered ways to delay their blossoming and germination. In the first six months of 1920 there were reported 2,771 suicides in the United States, as against 6,509 for the corresponding period this year.

Thrift

Thrift brings success in business and contentment in the home. We are learning the lesson of thrift as never before. If I were asked for a definition of Thrift, I would say it was hard work, saving what one earns, and judiciously investing it. I have known a great many people to work hard, who did not save. I have also known a great many who worked and saved but were duped into unwise and unsafe investments by the smooth tongued artist whom they knew nothing about and had never seen before. This was especially true during the last five years.

To the person who gets a salary, I know of no better way of saving and investing his surplus than in buying the monthly payment shares in THE HOME BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ADA. It operates both as a means of saving and investing. Each monthly payment begins to share in the profits of the association the moment it is paid in.

You can create an old age fund of $5,000 by paying into this association 120 monthly payments of $25, plus a membership fee of 1 percent.

To my mind the HOME BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ADA fills a place in this community which is not fully appreciated or well understood. If you will phone the Secretary at 911, we will be very glad to have him explain the details of our plan to you, or, if you prefer, we can send a lady representative.

Since January 16, we have made the following gains:
Monthly Income Increased 10%
Membership Increased 25%
Capital Stock Outstanding Increased 14%
Net earnings to members for month of January at the rate of 15%

Young High School Basketeers Threaten To Swamp College

STATE COACHES SCORN 'PAY' MEN

Oklahoma Conference To Discourage Professional Athletics.

Coach M. Z. Thompson of the Teachers College has returned from Oklahoma City where he attended a meeting of the state athletic association and one of the Oklahoma Intercollegiate conference. He reports that several important matters were decided at the meetings, including the abolishment of post-season football games for high schools and the addition of several new rulings in the intercollegiate section concerning eligibility of players.

Action on individual eligibility was taken due to prevalent reports that football and other college sports were becoming professionalized and would endanger the value of the games to colleges if steps were not taken to stop them, according to Thompson. The Oklahoma conference joined with the Big Ten and Southwestern conference regarding the outlawing of players who play in post season or professional games for money. It was also decided that when once ruled out of the conference, a player cannot be re-instated until the full majority of the state conference votes to re-admit him. It was also decided that instead of having two state athletic track and field meets—one at Norman and one at Stillwater—only one will be held each year. Norman was given class A division of the meet this year and Stillwater Class B. It will be reversed next year and so continued, eliminating the necessity for high school players to go to two meets to establish their rights to state championship.

Players who attend the all American meet at Chicago from this state must wear the Oklahoma sweater, and not sweaters of the school they represent, it was decided. Expenses for these players will be secured by popular subscription. This will not only advertise the state of Oklahoma, it was pointed out, but will place the state among leaders of the entire nation as far as high school athletics are concerned.

The meeting was one of the most profitable that has been held for some time, Thompson stated. Many matters that have been postponed at former meetings had come to a head and were settled in short order.

DIAMOND CALLS AGED MAN BACK INTO HIS TOGS

(By the Associated Press)
PORT HURON, Mich., Feb. 14.—The thrill of bat against horsehide, of spikes gleaming in the sunlight as feet go into the air for the slide at the plate and the musical creak of the turnstile of the grand stand have lured another former big league manager back to organized baseball.

W. H. Watkins, white haired and in the wrong side of sixty, after definitely quitting the game with the collapse of the Federal League, will have active charge of the Port Huron-Sarnia baseball club of the Michigan-Ontario league this season. He will pick the players and supervise the playing strategy of the team, as well as directing the business end of the club.

Watkins sprang into prominence on the diamond when the Port Huron independent club which he managed and on which he played third won the world's championship in the early '80's winning all but one of the 80 games played on a tour of the country. He attracted attention in Detroit in the old National League and was made manager, winning the world's championship the only time the honor has gone to that city. Watkins' later activities were confined to the American Association where he owned and managed at various times the Indianapolis and Minneapolis clubs.

Cold Weather Puts Snap Into Training For Fight Tonight

A recurrence of cold weather in Ada served to renew the snap and vigor of training in local boxing circles as Arch Cooper, local fighter, went through his last light workout this afternoon in preparation for his 6-round bout with "Hack" Heaglebeck, Shawnee pugilist, at the McSwain theatre tonight.

Remaining tickets for the fight were selling rapidly today, according to "Gib" Polly, commander of Norman Howard post of the American Legion, under the auspices of which the exhibition will be conducted. An unusually large crowd tonight was being predicted at mid-afternoon.

Interesting preliminaries will feature the exhibition. Some humorous negro bouts have been planned.

Mythical City League Team to Be Picked

An all-star team will be picked from the six teams in the city basketball league at the close of the league basketball tournament which ends March 1. Members of this mythical squad will be chosen from the men listed below, and those in charge of the selecting of the team state that the carriage of the men during the remainder of the season will have considerable to do with the votes cast for them.

At present Jobe, forward on the Battery team, is leading in the number of field goals. Wilsey of the high school leads in the number of free goals made this season. Little, center for the college, is second on field goals, and Bently, News; Rayburn, high school; Waner, teachers; Newton, teachers; Newcomb, Business college, and Smith, Cement plant are other men making high scores from the field.

$200,000 IN STAKES ARE OFFERED IN KENTUCKY RACES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 14.—More than $200,000 will be distributed in stakes by the Kentucky Jockey Club during the spring meets at Louisville, Lexington and Latonia, according to stake blanks issued by William H. Shelley, racing secretary. The nominations will close Feb. 21, six days later than last season.

The Kentucky Derby, with its $50,000 added, is the greatest money race of the state. It is for three-year-olds, at one and one-quarter miles. Two $5,000 races, the Spring Trial for two-year-olds and the Proctor Knott for three-year-olds, have been eliminated at Louisville, and $2,500 added to the Clark Handicap for three-year-olds and upward at one and one-eighth miles, making this race have a $10,000 added value. The Kentucky Oaks and the Kentucky Handicap are the other $10,000 races, and the Debutante Stakes and Bashford Manor Stakes are worth $5,000 added money.

The Lexington program is unchanged from last year and includes five stakes and handicaps with $3,000 added and the Camden Handicap with an added value of $5,000.

The Latonia stakes also are the same as last year, with the main stake races including the Latonia Derby mile and one-half for three-year-olds, and the Independence Handicap for the same age and distance, to which $15,000 each is added. The $10,000 added events include the Latonia Oaks and the Daniel Boone Handicap for three-year-olds and the Queen City Handicap for two-year-olds. Seven $5,000 races also are on the cards.

Thoroughbreds that have been campaigning in the South and in Cuba and youngsters fresh from the stock farms in the East are arriving at Churchill Downs daily to make ready for the Spring season which will open Derby Day, May 13.

MONEY PLAYING RAPPEL STERNLY

College Professionalism in Sports Condemned at Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 14.—Emphatic opposition to "any form of professionalism in university sports" was voiced by Fred W. Luehring, new athletic director of the University of Minnesota, in commenting today on the recent anti-professionalism agitation in the Big Ten Conference institutions.

He criticized college athletes who say they are "giving everything to the university by playing on her athletic teams, that they are spending time in hard practice and taking bruising punishment in games for the simple reward of a sweater and a letter."

"Why," he continued, "they don't realize what an honor it is for them to have a chance to represent a great university. It is not they who are honoring the university; it is the university that is honoring them."

Mr. Luehring declared no university says that a man may not be a professional athlete or that a professional athlete may not get an education, explaining:

"The university merely says that a man who makes his living at sport may not become a member of her amateur teams and that a man may not use the power of the university name and the advantage of highly costly university instruction to increase his prestige as a professional athlete."

While college baseball probably results in more college athletes turning professional than any other collegiate sport, Mr. Luehring said, nevertheless he is anxious to revive baseball at Minnesota, for "the sport is worth the losses suffered through professionalism."

He declared he was in favor of rigidly enforcing the summer baseball rule, though he admitted it was difficult to make it fully effective.

Michigan League To Start Early Under Set of New Rules

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 14.—Opening of the Michigan-Ontario League season, May 2, a week earlier than usual, will find a majority of the clubs with new managers. Two of the new pilots are former major leaguers, "Bill" Powell, who not so long ago baffled American League batters, will manage the Flint team of which he is part owner. Bill Kelly, battery mate of Marty O'Toole, the meteoric star who flashed through the Pirates' sky several seasons ago, will manage the Port Huron-Sarnia club.

George H. Haines, until this year, president of the league, will head the Hamilton club and Mickey LaLonde, well known in Canadian baseball circles, will be responsible for Brantford's showing. "Punch" Knoll will be back at Bay City and "Buz" Welch, who twice in succession has piloted the Long-Town Tecumseh to a pennant, will try to repeat. He will have to do it with virtually a new team, as he has wrecked by sale and trade the organization that won the championship in 1921.

ball for Holy Cross, Maguire handling second like Eddie Collins—which is considerable playing. Both are good batters.

Whether or not they can take the great step that Sisler, Pratt, Frisch and a score of others took and deliver remains to be seen.

The total value of the farm implements manufactured in this country during the year 1920 was $537,000,000 and gasoline tractors constituted one-third of this.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

28 TEAMS ENTER IN ILLINI MEET DUE NEXT MONTH

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 14.—The fifth annual Illini Relay carnival, to be held here March 4, today boasts an entry list of twenty-eight teams.

The team that will represent the University of Kansas looms to be one of the best in the west, being composed of such brilliant cinder athletes as Bradley, the all-around expert; Sandefur, the weight specialist; Paul O'Leary, winner of the quarter mile in the Missouri Valley conference meet last year; Esmond Kearney, sophomore hurdler and sprinter of much promise; Westmeyer, a ten second man in the century and Griffin, running mate to O'Leary in the 440.

Kansas placed fifth in the scoring last year, but with this aggregation of record-breakers and high scorers in the big meets of the nation last year, the Kansas University team should give the best team in the Illini meet a close race, if it does not take the top honors.

The westerners will feature in the special events and will probably compete in the two mile and medley relays. Sandefur, who won the shot put event at the Penn Relays last season, will undoubtedly win this event. Paul O'Leary and Griffin should go well in the 600 yard special. Bradley is a first class sprinter and hurdler and should give Osborne of Illinois a close run for first place in the all-around event.

Solid gold watches will be awarded first place winners, while medals will be given to the winners of the next two places. The profits, as usual, will be pro-rated among the teams that compete in direct proportion to the number of men on the team and the distance traveled.

Free Musical Program.

Thursday evening, Feb. 16, Mrs. W. A. Hill will present in piano recital at the First Methodist church the following students:

Virgil Woods, Roberta Braly, Charlotte Frank, Paula Walis, Mildred Jeter, Louise Spencer, Bernice Newton, Lady Percy Shaw, Frances Rives, Margaret Chilcutt, Roba Holt, Ora Faust.

Lucile Webster, Ethel Jane Byrd, Calista Timberlake, Jaunita Ford, Jessie Lee Woods, Harriet Lee King, Jack Moore and Carl Brownall cornetists, and Eugene Ford, clarinetist, will accompany.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin.—"I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings."—Mrs. B. LANSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

ONE POINT GIVES GAME TO ELDERS

And Battery F Continues Victories by Beating Cement Plant.

The young high school eagles stole a march on the Teachers College last night and had not the fates been against them would have chalked up a victory against the pedagogs. As it was they lost by only one point, the score being 20 to 19. Battery F continued a long string of victories by defeating the Cement Plant 22 to 13.

With only one day's practice in three weeks, the high school youngsters went into the game against the strongest team in the league. Odds were against them; the teachers had a long list of men to use against them, and men who had been working out daily. The fight that characterized the spirit of the high school football team last year predominated in the rank of Coach C. R. Cox's men and for the entire period of the game the lads fought without weakening.

Starting with a good lead, they increased their advantage until the close of the first half. This was continued in the last half until the last minute, when Waner for the college managed to roll one in just in time for his team to win by one point. The high school played rings around the teachers in the first half, and although Coach Thompson was using some of his second string men, his team showed signs of weakness due to lack of team work. The guarding of Molloy and Cunningham was sufficient to break up most of the plays tried by the teachers.

In the Battery-Cement game, Jobe led in scoring, getting seven field goals. The cement men were playing their last game and tried hard to win. Their efforts were awarded the first half which left them one point in the lead. The guardsmen fought better in the last half and scored seven goals from the field, while the cement men were getting two.

Rough Stuff Missing. Both games last night were void of rough stuff except in one or two instances. Most of the rough playing was in the heat of both games.

With the results of last night's games known, fans are now looking forward to the remainder of the season with interest. Final results of the league will depend somewhat on what the News team does. This team plays the high school and the Business College, and if it wins both, will run the battery a close race for second place. The Battery-Teachers game still promises to be the feature game of the entire league.

That's what Holy Cross college might well be called. It was that college that produced Jack Barry, athletic and world's series veteran; Joe Dugan, young Mackinnon star, and a flock of others.

And now it has two more baseball prospects who are slated to break into the majors—Freddie Maguire, second baseman, and Chick Gagnon, shortstop.

Maguire is expected to land with the Giants or Dodgers, having received overtures from both clubs. Gagnon is being looked over by big league scouts.

Both these lads are said to be ripe. Both have played spectacular

MORE WAGES OR STRIKE, DEMAND

Half Million Coal Miners Back Up Serious Threat of Walkout April 1.

(By the Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 14.—Continuance of present wages for soft coal miners and an increase of 20 per cent for the anthracite workers, backed with a threat of a general strike in all unionized coal fields, was the wage policy recommended today to the special convention of the United Mine Workers of America by its scale committee, composed of the 27 district presidents.

Action by the convention on the committee report, which was received with cheers from the 2000 delegates was deferred until tomorrow, and the threatened convention fight over the spating as delegates of the followers of Alexander Howat, the deposed Kansas leader, also failed to break on the convention floor. Howat's partisans, however, predicted it would come later but administration leaders, who were non-committal, said the scale representatives had the right of way before the convention.

Results in Half the Usual Time!

The reason Ironized Yeast brings such amazing results is because it not only contains just the right amount of all three essential vitamins, but in addition contains a type of yeast which has positively no equal as a reconstructive agent—a yeast which is cultured expressly for medicinal purposes, and which is entirely different from the yeast found in ordinary "yeast tablets."

But even more important than this is the fact that this yeast has been ironized—or treated through a scientific process with a special form of easily assimilated organic iron, similar to the iron found in spinach. When yeast is ironized in this manner it is found that results are not only more permanent, but are secured just twice as quickly!

made definite by the convention their general policy is already known as likewise that of many operators in various parts of the country, who not only ask wage reductions, but also refuse to continue the collective bargaining movement with the union. This refusal, provoking an unprecedented situation since the beginning of collective bargaining in the coal industry, virtually sets the threatened strike date for April 1 for union officials point out that the absence of a fixed date for a conference with operators terminates the provisions of present agreements requiring continued wage pending negotiations over the wage scale.

For the last week, the president of the 27 districts of the union have been in conference here formulating a report on the scale demands affecting the entire soft coal industry, and previously a convention of the Pennsylvania anthracite miners declared for a 20 percent wage advance. The basic soft coal scale, outlined by the district president's report, will be fixed by the convention, which also will ratify or modify the anthracite demands.

Some Arrive Monday.

Delegates to the convention began arriving here Monday, coming from the twenty coal producing states scattered throughout the country. President John L. Lewis and other union officials predicted that 2,300 delegates would be present today—the same number of attended the union's regular convention last fall, and decided to postpone framing scale demands until nearer the time for seeking a new wage agreement with the operators.

The largest gathering in the world that is ruled by parliamentary law is the claim made for the miners' convention by Mr. Lewis, the union's president and presiding officer at its meetings. Opportunity is given the delegates to discuss various proposals presented, and a roll call on any question requires more than one day's session. The cost of holding the convention is estimated by union officials to be about $3,000 an hour. Union officials expect that the special convention will not be long in session. The program includes only the consideration of the wage scale, and officers feel that no other question will be permitted to come before the delegates.

Is this the Third Influenza Wave?

Is the type of heavy cold now prevalent a true influenza? Doctors disagree.

It will be remembered that after the terrible epidemics of 1918 and 1919, it was predicted that "waves" of influenza would recur, milder each time, until humanity should have acquired immunity against the disease.

Science has not yet found the germ, nor medicine the cure. But we have learned better how to avoid influenza, grip and pneumonia.

The value of Vicks as an aid in preventing these diseases is explained below.

Avoid Influenza---Grip---Pneumonia

Apply Vicks to help avoid infection. Use Vicks at the first sign of an oncoming cold.

MOST medical authorities now agree that Colds, Grip, Influenza and Pneumonia are all germ diseases—most commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not breed.

In fact the germs of all of these diseases are frequently found in perfectly healthy persons. It is only when the bodily resistance is lowered—as by a cold for instance—that they are able to harm us.

Avoid Sneezers and Coughers

It is best to keep away from the sneezers and coughers in the street cars and public places, or if you must meet them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils before you start out. On returning home, melt a little Vicks in a tin cup or a spoon and inhale the vapors.

Opposed to Bacteria

The ingredients of Vicks are not only antiseptic, but rubefacient—that is, they summon the blood to the tissues where applied and this free blood circulation is nature's best method of repelling germ infection. Also Vicks spreads a protective film over the membrane and furthermore is opposed to the growth of bacteria. In short, we believe you have a much better chance to avoid infection by these numerous germs if you have Vicks in your nose.

Attack a Cold Immediately

When you feel a cold coming on, go right home. Take a laxative. Make some hot lemonade, then take a hot bath—as hot as you can stand. Stay in the tub 30 minutes, sipping slowly several glasses of the lemonade. Get into bed, with a hot water bottle at your feet, and pile on blankets. After an hour's sweat, dry thoroughly with a rough towel, apply Vicks over throat and chest, rub in well until the skin is red, and then spread on thickly and cover with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Get into bed again between dry sheets. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck, like a funnel, so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled. It is an obstinate cold, indeed, that will resist such treatment. If it does, call a physician.

Acts Two Ways At Once

Vicks is of benefit in cold troubles in two ways. 1st—It is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus helping to relieve the soreness, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing less difficult. 2nd—At the same time the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are taken with each breath directly into the congested, inflamed air passages.

A Vapor Lamp in Salve Form

Vicks is the discovery of Mr. L. Richardson, a North Carolina druggist. He realized that cold troubles were affections of the respiratory organs and that the only way to get medication direct to these parts was in the form of vapors. Mr. Richardson finally worked out the process for making Vicks, so made that the body heat releases the volatile ingredients in the form of vapors. Vicks really is "a vapor lamp in salve form."

The Ingredients of Vicks

Since the dawn of history mankind has been searching nature for remedies against cold troubles. The knowledge gained thru a thousand years has come down to us today. Vicks contains the best known remedies for these troubles, some of them of great antiquity. Menthol, for instance, comes from Oil of Peppermint which was grown in Egypt three thousand years ago and whose virtues are described in the old Icelandic books of the 13th century.

The highest authority on drugs and their uses is the U. S. Dispensatory. We give below a few extracts from the Dispensatory on some of the ingredients in Vicks.

MENTHOL—"It is actively anti-bacterial. It is employed for its antiseptic and anesthetic influence in coryza, pharyngitis and laryngitis."

CAMPHOR—"Has a peculiar and agreeable effect on the mucous membrane—relieves congestion and inflammation—is a powerful stimulant to the respiratory centers."

OIL OF EUCALYPTUS—"Germicidal, antiseptic and stimulant—largely used in chronic bronchitis and infections of the upper respiratory tract—its vapors are very efficient."

OIL OF THYME—"This drug is a powerful antiseptic with wonderful healing properties, especially in congestion and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat."

OIL OF TURPENTINE—"Its vapors are an excellent remedy for, and highly beneficial in, various forms of bronchial and lung troubles—has powerful heating, antiseptic properties."

Adopt the DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested, inflamed air passages.
